

Unmasking the Mess

Trusting God When Life Is Hard

Guest Writing Guidelines

What you do:

- Posts should be written from a Christian perspective, offering encouragement, with a “me too” perspective.
- Submit original pieces that haven’t appeared elsewhere, including your personal blog.
- Please only submit one piece for consideration.
- Posts should be between 400-800 words, include Scripture and the translation.
- Posts should be checked for grammar and spelling.
- Please upload your post in a Word document, including your name and post title.

- If your post is accepted, you will be asked for a 50-word bio along with a photo of yourself and social media links.
- Please post a teaser on your blog the day of my blog publishing your post.
- Readers will want to engage with you the day of your post publish, please plan to be available to engage and encourage the readers.

What I do:

- I will provide a graphic which will showcase your site address and my site address. The graphic will be optimized for social media.
- I will format your Word document to fit my desired post style.
- I reserve the right to edit your post
- I will send you the permalink in advance, and promote your post on my social media sites.

I look forward to sharing your faith and story!

Julie